Introduction

Given the complexities associated with the transportation of fish and seafood into export markets, and our peripheral location on the fringes of Europe, Bord Bia has developed the following directory to assist Irish fish processors in this regard. This study highlights the key players in this market, with a focus on Freight Forwarders and Logistics / Road Transport Service Providers.

The study is divided into two parts (1) Freight Forwarders and (2) Logistics / Road Transport Service Providers. Each part includes a summary sheet introducing each section, broken down by market followed by detailed profiles, as provided by the individual service provider.

A glossary of relevant terms is provided on page 38.

Glossary

FCL Full Container Load

The shipping company charges for the whole container. Used by high volume suppliers.

FTL Full Truckload (Road Transport)

The transport company would charge for the whole truck (e.g. 26 pallets) irrespective of how many pallets are delivered. Used by high volume suppliers.

LCL Less than Container Load

The shipping company charges a tariff based on the weight or volume delivered. Used by low volume suppliers to share the costs with others.

LTL Less Than Truckload (Road Transport)

The transport company charges a tariff based on the number of pallets delivered, with the highest rate for one pallet. Used by low volume suppliers to share the cost with others.

ULD Unit Load Device

This is a generic term to describe closed containers (about the size of a full pallet) used for transporting in the hold on aeroplanes. The ULD can be refrigerated and is also known as a can or pod.
